

The School of Philosophical and Historical Inquiry, University of Sydney and Gleebooks invites you to the launch of

Geneviève Souillac's

Human Rights in Crisis.
The Sacred and the Secular in Contemporary French Thought

launched by Stuart Rees (Director, Centre for Peace & Conflict Studies)

Thursday 6 October 2005
6pm for 6.30pm

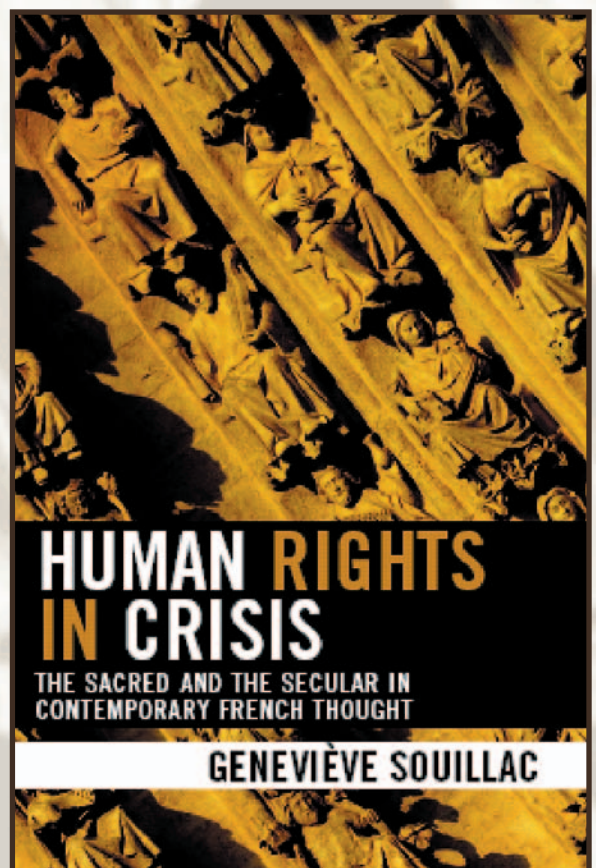

at Gleebooks
49 Glebe Point Road, Glebe

rsvp: by 30 September to events@gleebooks.com.au or tel 9660 2333

Human Rights in Crisis uniquely documents recent ideas on democracy and human rights in both the current French intellectual context and the Anglo-American debate, arguing that the emphasis on the interdependence of democracy and human rights is a necessary tool for the critique and renewal of democracy.

About the Author

Geneviève Souillac has earned a BA (Hons), a DEA (Diplome d'Etudes Approfondies), a Masters in International Studies, a PhD in Political Philosophy and has pursued research and taught philosophy, international relations, and political and critical theory in Paris, Sydney, and Hong Kong. She has worked for the United Nations University's Peace and Governance Programme in Tokyo, where she directed a project on international human rights and humanitarian NGOs.

The University of Sydney

gleebooks